Treatment of Shying Horses

Shying generally arises from timidity, but sometimes it is united with cunning, and induces the animal to assume a fear of some object for the can be applied and the value of the turning saide. The usual cause of article are being fast developed by shying is, doubtless, the presence of GRAND UNIFORM BALL some object to which the horse has not been accutsomed, and if he has defective eyes, which render him shortsighted, it will be difficult to convince him of the innocent nature of the novel object. There are endless peculiarities in shying horses, some being dreadfully alarmed by one kind of an object, which to others is not at all formidable. The best plan of treatment, which can lie adop-ted, is to take as little notice as possible of the shying, and to be espec inlly careful not to show any fear of its reenreence when the "alarming" objectsppears in the distance. the horse begins to show alarm, but not till then, the driver should speak encouraging to him, and, if necessary, with a severe tone, which may even be supported by the use of the whip The principle which should be carried out, is to adopt such moss-

The "Milkmaid Song," from JUST RECEIVED AND TO Tennyson's "Quoen Mary," will be just as heartily welcomed and encored Indeed it is the prettiest song of the two. The performance of Borthwick Roid with swords will be superb and take the audience by complete surprise as they expect no such a splendid exhibition. Some of his feats are most wonderful, and show a perfeetness of calculation and execution which is simply maryolous. A grand assault at arms will take place between him and Mr. R. C. Johnson, one having a sword and the other a bayonet. See the advertisement in another column and believe that it tells not the half of the good things you will see to-night.
